Step Two

Came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.

After admitting to our inner most selves that we are powerless over alcohol, and that no-matter how hard we tried to have power over our lives, we didn't, we had to find something that could have power over every aspect of our lives. By being beat up and totally surrendering, we give up our old ideas and allow something else to work on our alcoholism and our relationships. This is a spiritual program and I tapped into a power that I call God. For some people it may first become an AA group in which they take direction from. Some can admit that the ocean is more powerful than they are, and they start praying to it. Wherever we start, as long as we start, a dramatic change will take place in our lives.

For me, as I go through the day with actions and conversations, I am made fully aware that I am allowing my higher power to change me. To restore my sanity. But that is the key, though. To allow change to occur. This is not a process in which we ever take back control of our lives. We've done that for too long with terrible consequences. And by going to meetings and seeing a greater power working in peoples lives with awesome results, I gained hope that surrendering and turning my life over is the only way to get well. Little did I know the true effect that just believing in a power greater than myself would have.

So if you're having troubles with this step, just trust that this process works. Just know that there are powers greater than you and those powers are working in peoples lives all around you every time you step into an AA meeting. Understanding this step will put hope in your heart.

Garrett D.

Concept Two

The General Service Conference of A.A. has become, for nearly every practical purpose, the active voice and the effective conscience of our whole society in its world affairs.

"When, in 1955, the A.A. groups confirmed the permanent charter for their General Service Conference, they thereby delegated to the Conference complete authority for the active maintenance of our world services and thereby made the Conference -- excepting for any change in the Twelve Traditions or in Article 12 of the Conference Charter -- the actual voice and the effective conscience for our whole society."

As Bill W. so poignantly wrote in "The A.A. Service Manual Combined with Twelve Concepts for World Service" which appears in the 2007-2008 edition, "The principle of amply delegated authority and responsibility to 'trusted servants' must be implicit FROM THE TOP TO THE BOTTOM of A.A.'s active structure of service. This is the clear implication of A.A.'s Tradition Two ("For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority -- a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants' they do not govern.").

Tradition Two

For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority - loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern.

"A HOLE IN THE HEAD"

I recently read an article entitled, Hole in the Head: "Why do most 16-year-olds drive like they're missing a part of their brain?" The answer supplied at the end of the article was, "Because they are." This article was published by an insurance company as its defense for not insuring kids 16 years old and younger and only at 16 at an outrageous premium.

The rationale for this defense was that the dorsal lateral prefrontal cortex of the brain is not fully developed and functional until a person reaches the age of 22. Why is this important? This is the part of the brain that controls problem solving, emotions, complex thought, perseverance, planning, judgment, and impulse control. Lack of mature judgment and impulse control is why a kid takes the chance and passes another car on a two lane road during a blinding rain, often to his regret. To get a visual of this think of an open lotus flower and mentally watch it slowly close into a tight bud. As the prefrontal cortex slowly closes by growth time, more and more of the missing disciplines become mature and functional.

Two of the favorite mantras of a newly sober person are, "Time doesn't count—we ALL have only today." "Who ever got up earliest this morning has the most sobriety." This is true but not well thought out; because as sobriety matures this sort of thinking will change. Just what are we trying to do, one day at a time? According to Chapter 5 of the book, Alcoholics Anonymous, "We are grasping and developing a manner of living that demands rigorous honesty." We are developing a sober lifestyle and this doesn't happen overnight or in a single 24 hours.

Consider for a moment— in chapter 5, in the ABC's, we acknowledge that no human power could relive our alcoholism conceding our lack in problem solving. In Step 6 we were ready to have God remove our character defects acknowledging our inadequacy in our judgment to choose what should go or stay. In Step 7 we ask God to remove our shortcomings again acknowledging our deficit in impulse control. It is not until Step 10 that we are told that, "by this time, sanity will have returned" and we began to do the daily inventories and the spot-check inventory. Step 10 deals with emotional sobriety in depth. We are told that the ability to spot, admit, and correct is the essence of good living and character building. This is a maturing process and it takes time to grasp and develop.

What does all of this have to do with our second tradition which states, "For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority—a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern."

Why do individual groups, your Central Office, H & I., P I and GSR all have length of sobriety requirements to do service work? Simply put, it takes time for the newly sober mind to recalibrate itself through the process of grasping and developing, to acquire some semblance of emotional maturity and acquire the insight to be trusted servants without becoming overwhelmed by the office they hold. Being secretary looks like a glamorous position but in reality it is an important service commitment and a position of responsibility. Most of us when entering Alcoholics Anonymous had to learn what having a commitment meant.

In most of our groups there is a minimum of 6 months sobriety to be a secretary, usually 2 to 3 years minimum sobriety to be the treasurer. Some groups require the treasurer have a bank account. Why? The wisdom gained over time has brought these unwritten traditions about since the majority of us were way in debt, overdrawn at the bank, in trouble with our creditors and needed to learn how to commit to a plan which would restore our ruined finances.

In your Central Office, to serve your group, you usually are required to have 6 months sobriety. After 6 months service to your group you are then eligible to hold a position on the Central Office Board of Directors and serve as a trusted servant for the groups as a whole thus expanding your knowledge of how to be a trusted servant. This service gives you the opportunity to display your ability to serve as a trusted servant by being a worker among workers and show mature problem solving, good judgment, impulse control and critical thinking. This is the reason that a three year minimum length of sobriety is required for the position of Chairman of the Board, Vice Chair or Treasurer. It takes time to develop and understand the true spirit of what Alcoholics Anonymous' service policy entails. It takes time to develop emotional sobriety in order for you to be equipped to serve the membership in the true spirit of Alcoholics Anonymous without becoming overwhelmed. This spiritual way of living is a new way of thinking, acting and serving. We learn to gain trust and prefer our fellows rather than being self-seeking as our old way of living demanded.

So if you are a new member with a desire for service keep focused on the concept of "one day at a time". We encourage you to begin to grasp and develop a sober life style with a new design for living beginning by getting a sponsor, attending book studies, learning the meaning of and experiencing the spirit of the steps and the traditions in your life, developing a love for the fellowship and program while you learn commitment as you serve as "a trusted servant" as coffee maker or set-up person. To develop a sober life style remember, it will take time for the brain and emotions to refocus to our sober way of living, correct problem solving, mature emotions, complex thought, perseverance, planning, judgment, and impulse control. These were all missing while drinking—creating a hole in our heads. Time gained one day at a time results in weeks, months and years of growth and healing and equipping you to be a trusted servant.

Time is not the enemy or a way for old timers to exclude the newer members from service positions in Alcoholics Anonymous. Time allows for maturity and is a friend of the process by keeping newer members from becoming overwhelmed by the responsibility of the office. Time in the study of the book, Alcoholics Anonymous including the study of the Traditions and Concepts of Alcoholics Anonymous keeps our fellowship strong.

This was a momentous transfer! We who have been deeply involved with A.A. for some time dearly hope that this allows us to avoid those pitfalls into which societies have often fallen because their originators have failed, during their lifetimes, to properly delegate and distribute their own authority responsibility and leadership. New ideas on living life must be passed on from one generation to the next.

Respectfully Submitted,

Wendy B.
Secretary

Prayer is not to make God aware of my presence, prayer is to make me aware of God's presence.

Since I've come into the program of Alcoholics Anonymous, I've had some painful moments. The good news is, I've had them. They've NOT had me.

Take the alcohol out of the alcoholic, and you're still left with the "ic" . . . which is why we have the twelve steps!

"Did you know," said the long timer to the new comer, "that you can't solve a problem with the same thinking that caused the problem in the first place? Ask God to help change your thinking, and then run it past a sponsor BEFORE you take an action on what you think God said!"
